Our membership package for sector organisations

The Chartered College of Teaching is your professional body for teaching, a not-for-profit charity independent of government, and a “trusted broker of evidence” (EEF, 2021) on what makes teaching and leadership most effective.

Our membership package for sector organisations recognises the vital role you play in teacher support and development, whether through teacher education, training, brokering partnerships or providing professional learning opportunities across a region.

Whether you represent a Teaching School Hub, Higher Education Institution, SCITT, local education partnership, local authority or another sector organisation, the package has been designed with your needs in mind.

What does the package include?

Developed in consultation with sector organisations to ensure it meets your needs, this package offers a range of tailored options including:

- ✓ Professional Affiliate membership for 5 staff, providing access to the MyCollege database of research and evidence, our award winning journal Impact, and events and webinars
- ✓ A special collection of Impact journal articles in PDF form, selected from our archives, on topics including cognitive load theory, subject knowledge, oracy, curriculum and more, for you to use in any of your courses, resources etc
- ✓ Designation as an Institutional Member of the Chartered College of Teaching, with exclusive badging
- ✓ Opportunity to arrange an expert webinar for the teachers you work with, delivered by a Chartered College team member, on research engagement, teacher development, professional culture or another agreed topic
- ✓ Opportunity to enrol in our Certificate in Evidence-Informed Practice online course for 2 team members.

What's the cost?

With a combined value of over £1,000, we're pleased to offer this package for just £750 annually. As well as offering practical benefits and resources to support your work, by subscribing to our package you are supporting the work of the professional body for teachers, and this is recognised through your Institutional Member Status badge.

What next?

If you would like to discuss this further, you can contact the Chartered College team at partnerships@chartered.college.

We are happy to discuss adaptations to this package (eg. more than 5 memberships for your staff team) to suit your organisation best.

Testimonials

"Chiltern Teaching School Hub is proud to engage with the Chartered College of Teaching to further strengthen our commitment to the teaching profession. The benefits of being an Institutional Member have enabled our team to engage with the latest thought leadership work of the Chartered College. Our stakeholders across our region have benefited by having access to Chartered College input on our events and the opportunity to engage with a special issue of Impact articles."

James Searle, Director of Chiltern Teaching School Hub

"Liverpool Hope University has worked closely with the Chartered College of Teaching for a number of years - our curriculum has been enriched by the excellent range of Impact journal articles, webinars and research, which have opened up greatly enhanced opportunities for collaboration and professional learning for our staff and students. Being a group member has resulted in enhanced teaching and learning experiences for lecturers and students, which is positively impacting student outcomes. As a prominent provider of Initial Teacher Education across the North West and beyond, we greatly value our membership and partnership with the Chartered College and continue to benefit from what they provide to us."

Rhys Coetmor Jones, Director of Initial Teacher Education, Liverpool Hope University
